PARENT BRAG SHEET

Name of Student:

Counselor:

As your child prepares for the application process, we as counselors endeavor to present to the colleges the uniqueness and worthiness of your child's college admissions candidacy. In our efforts to do so, we would appreciate your help in providing a more multidimensional picture of your child, including the insights into strengths, weaknesses, areas of challenge and development, personality traits and goals that only a parent can provide. These questions attempt to elicit helpful responses and are not intended to invade privacy; as such, please answer each question as you deem appropriate. Skip those you are not inclined to answer. Please feel free to attach your own sheet of paper if your comments do not fit in the space provided or if you need to say something in addition to what has been asked. Thank you for your time.

What do you consider the most important achievements of your child during high school? Why do you select these as most significant?

In what areas has your child shown the most growth and development over the past few years?

Describe one or two major turning points in your child's development and explain why you view them as such.

Your child's high school career was pleasurable and/or painful because....
